

I and most people I know oppose ANY sales calls on my telephone. I find them intruding and inconvenient. If people must market to me, they can use the mail where I can deal (or not deal) with them at a time convenient to me. My home life should not be degraded by telemarketers. I do not call them at home.